

terms of use of the sde21 supplier database

We hereby confirm that we

- agree to the transfer of the information given here to the participating teams of the SDE21,
- know the concept of the SDE21 competition,
- will provide the participating teams with an English-speaking contact person who is familiar with the SDE21 concept,
- will give top priority to delivery times and quality within the framework of the competition and conclude contracts in such a way that the participating teams are immediately entitled to make replacement purchases in case of delivery defects and to claim damages instead of performance without setting a deadline (absolute fixed-date transaction). Deviations from this are only possible with the agreement of the contracting parties. The supplier has to indicate on this expressly.

There is no claim against the University of Wuppertal. The University of Wuppertal will pass on the deposited data to the participating teams, but will not be involved in any business relations arising from it.

The student teams can access the published offers and are explicitly referred to them. However, they are not obliged to use them.

For the provision and processing of the deposited data, the liability and copyright notices as well as the data protection regulations of the project website www.sde21.eu (<https://sde21.eu/legal-notice>) apply.
